

Name _____

Calming the Sea

The storm was strong. It scared the people in the village.

Nara pushed her own fear away. I must sing to calm the sea, she thought. She knew the village was in danger if she didn't.

"I am old, but I will go," Nara told the people.

The wind blew. Nara took a deep breath and stepped onto the cliffs. The sea was angry.

She sang an old song.

The storm calmed down a little. It no longer put the village in danger.

Nara smiled and went home.
