

The Goat and the Singing Wolf

A Reading A-Z Level H Leveled Book

Word Count: 213

Reading A-Z

Visit www.readinga-z.com
for thousands of books and materials.

LEVELED BOOK • H

The Goat and the Singing Wolf

An Aesop's Fable
Retold by Anthony Curran
Illustrated by Jess Yeomans

www.readinga-z.com

The Goat and the Singing Wolf

An Aesop's Fable
Retold by Anthony Curran
Illustrated by Jess Yeomans

www.readinga-z.com

The Goat and the Singing Wolf
Level H Leveled Book
© Learning A-Z
An Aesop's Fable
Retold by Anthony Curran
Illustrated by Jess Yeomans

All rights reserved.

www.readinga-z.com

Correlation

LEVEL H

Fountas & Pinnell	H
Reading Recovery	13-14
DRA	14

A young goat was walking across a field.
Suddenly, a hungry wolf jumped out of the bushes.

The goat ran for his life, but the wolf soon caught him.

The hungry wolf licked his lips.
He opened his jaws to eat the goat.

“Wait!” cried the goat before
the wolf could gobble him up.
“Do me one favor before you eat
me!” he begged.

“What favor is that?” asked the wolf.

“It’s a small thing, really,” said the goat.

“I want to hear music once more in my life,” said the goat.

“Would you please sing me a song before you eat me?” he asked.

The wolf thought for a moment.
“Why not?” he laughed.
“I can still eat you when I am done
singing,” the wolf growled.

So the wolf began to howl out
a song for the goat.
His mighty voice was loud
and strong.

A pack of dogs lived nearby
on a farm.

The wolf's howls soon brought the farmer's dogs running.

The pack of dogs quickly chased off the wolf.

The young goat laughed when he saw the wolf run away.
“That was the best song I ever heard!” he chuckled.

The wolf learned an important lesson that day.
Do not become distracted when a goal is within reach.

Glossary

- begged (v.) asked in an emotional way for something (p. 6)
- caught (v.) grabbed and held something (p. 4)
- distracted (adj.) unfocused or unable to pay attention to something (p. 15)
- favor (n.) a special act of kindness (p. 6)
- goal (n.) something that one is trying to do or accomplish (p. 15)
- howl (v.) to make a long, loud cry (p. 10)